BARNACLE

BARNSTABLE HIGH SCHOOL

Foreword

By happy chance we who graduate in 1939 are honored by being the Tercentenary Class of Barnstable High School. In 1639 a few resolute men and women settled here to secure for themselves and their descendants the right to worship and to think in freedom. People of less fortitude would soon have become discouraged and would have returned to their more comfortable former homes in well-established colonies; but these hardy souls erected shelters here, cut away the forests, planted fields, and vigilantly kept the Indians friendly. Only with difficulty can we imagine today the hardships faced by the settlers of Barnstable in laying the foundations of our town. In earliest times children were taught at home, since schools did not exist. As the town slowly grew, the residents established district schools and with foresight improved them during the passing years. Now, as a result of the vision of our more recent forefathers, we have one of the best equipped junior-senior high schools in Southeastern Massachusetts. We are proud of our three-hundred year heritage—so proud that our dearest wish is to govern this town as wisely and improve it as much as did any generation of our forebears.

In Memoriam

To the memory of Ralph R. Barr, who for years gave the best of his thought and strength to provide us with adequate educational facilities, raise the standard of scholarship in Barnstable schools, and enrich our cultural contacts, the Class of 1939 respectfully dedicates this Tercentenary Edition of "The Barnacle."

Class Ode

Tune: "The Old Refrain"

Now we are leaving you,
Barnstable High—
Friends we will often miss
As years go by.
Whene'er we think of you,
With loyal tie
Mem'ries return to days
Which ne'er can die.

So if our road through life is rough or wrong,
Your gifts will render us forever strong.
As we march on today with parting song,
What we have learned in school will last us long.

To work, to hope, to love, say no goodbye
But sad farewell to you, Barnstable High.

SOME sentiments become enshrined in our hearts and require no written record to bring back happy memories. Our career here at Barnstable High School has been exceptionally full of beneficial and happy activities. We have made friends whom we shall treasure always; we have learned many fundamentals which will now help us to enter the school of life; we have met and have received help from excellent instructors; we have participated in pleasurable activities. All these benefits we can never forget.

With youthful eagerness 155 of us determined in September of 1933 to make ourselves worthwhile additions to the school. Adjustments to the transition from grade schools to the junior high had to be made. The establishment of a vocational household arts course pleased the girls in our group. We were fortunate, too, in having Miss Janet Jones as head of the art department, with Miss Harriett Chase as her assistant.

On our return in the fall of 1934, a newly-appointed principal greeted us. We shall ever be grateful to the sound judgment, good sense, and deep understanding which Mr. Melvin C. Knight has shown in his post as our guide and leader. Boys interested in the country's basic occupation, farming, appreciated the inauguration of an agricultural department. Mr. Jesse Taft was appointed its head. In the science department Mr. Briah Connor, a capable teacher, was added. The members of our band, in whom we all take pride, received striking new red and white uniforms during this year.

On September 4, 1935, 151 of us returned to school, still enthusiastic, but somewhat more mature. The Activities Association was organized to help athletics become self-supporting. Its program was tried, found worthwhile, and made a permanent part of our activities. During this year the "Clipper," under the supervision of Miss Mabel Harris and the editorship of Virginia Allen, took its present form. Assisting on the staff were Carol Scudder and Jane Harris as assistant-editors, Oliver Bowman as literary editor, John Terry as news editor, Mary Keavy as feature editor, and Christ Grammaticas as a staff reporter. During the early spring Barnstable played host to the schools entering the Southeastern Massachusetts Speech Tournament.

The following people accepted positions as leaders of a newly-organized Sophomore Class in September 1936: Carol Scudder, president; Louis Williams, vice-president; Frances Starck, secretary; Carl Salo, treasurer; and Mr. Howard Batchelder, class adviser. James Burke and Myrtle Calmas were chosen to represent us on the Student Council. Mr. Elliot B. MacSwan, Miss Marion L. MacQuarrie, Mr. Edward C. Manning, and Mr. Wilbur E. Cheever came to Barnstable High School as new members of the faculty. On the "Clipper," Virginia Allen, Carol Scudder, and Jane Harris were assistant-editors, and Oliver Bowman was a staff reporter. Several sophomores entered the re-organized dramatic club under the direction of Mrs. Wilfred St. Coeur. To encourage improvement in speaking, Mrs. Hurst organized the Better-Speech Club. Virginia Allen acted as secretary and Myrtle Calmas as treasurer during the first half-year; Myrtle Calmas as president, Mary Keavy as vice-president for the second half. Other club members from the class of 1939 were Anne Crocker, Jane Harris, Barbara Landers, and Carol Scudder. Mary Keavy and Myrtle Calmas joined the debating team and participated in the contests of the season. Barnstable was a member of the Colonial Debating League. Myrtle was one of the representatives of Barnstable High School sent to the Second Annual Massachusetts Speech Tournament, held in Charlton.

In March 1937 the New England Music Festival was held at Barnstable High School. Jean Dunham, Emma Boyne, Nicholas Fortes, John Terry, William Howes, Bryant Scudder, and William Mott represented our class in the band, the orchestra, or the chorus.

Great enthusiasm went into the planning of our first social event, an afternoon dance which the sophomores held in February.

On the football team during this sophomore year James Burke, Henry George, and Gordon Field won their positions. In the other sports several members of the class took part, though there were so many experienced upper classmen available that our classmates were not placed on the first teams.

Only ninety-seven of the 113 sophomores returned to enroll as juniors in September 1937. We chose as class officers, James Burke, president; Myrtle Calmas, vice-president; Carol Scudder, secretary; and Paul Syriala, treasurer. Our class adviser was Mr. Edward C. Manning. Soon afterwards Carl Salo was added to the Student Council. By this time in the fall, we had become accustomed to our new teachers, Miss Janet H. Robinson, Miss Dorothy Barton, and Mr. Francis L. Horgan. Mr. Eric C. Vendt came to assist Mr. Taft the following January.

Several members of our class held responsible positions on the "Clipper" staff. Virginia Allen was editor-in-chief; Mary Keavy and Myrtle Calmas were literary editors; Carol Scudder and Jane Harris, news editors; Oliver Bowman, sports editor; Bryant Scudder, art editor; and Emma Boyne, a typist.

Music ranked large among our outside activities this year. Mr. Griffith's orchestra was even stronger than ever before and participated at Framingham in the Seventh Annual Concert for Principals of Junior and Senior High Schools of Massachusetts. In April the orchestra journeyed to Pawtucket for a combined concert with the Pawtucket High School Orchestra. The band played at all the home football games; marched on Armistice Day and Decoration Day; played for the opening of the Hyannis Theatre; attended the Festivals at Fall River, Massachusetts, and at Burlington, Vermont; and performed in the Hyannis-Pawtucket Concert held in the Barnstable High School auditorium. The outstanding musical event of the year was the New England Music Festival, which took place at New London, Connecticut, in March. At this concert the Barnstable High School Band received a rating of B, and the string quartette, a rating of A. Members of the class of 1939 taking part in the band and orchestra ensemble were Jean Dunham, John Terry, and Nicholas Fortes. Twelve of our classmates sang in the chorus.

In September of our junior year dramatics began to play a larger part in our school life than for some years previously. A six-year program was begun by the organization of the Senior Dramatic Club under Mr. Cheever and a preparatory club in junior high grades under Miss Banning. At the Thanksgiving assembly the older group gave "Stolen Fruit," a light one-act comedy in which Bryant Scudder acted the part of a forlorn lover. At Christmas a thought-inspiring morality play, "Why the Chimes Rang," was produced in an intricate setting that made the effectiveness of the program outstanding. In April our class sponsored a three-act mystery play, "Tiger House," and proved to a surprised audience of townsfolk that we had theatrical talent among us. Juniors in the cast were Mary Keavy, Myrtle Calmas, Bryant Scudder, William Mott, Gordon Field, Jane Harris, and Mabel Pelton.

During this year our classmates contributed largely to a successful athletic program. James Burke, John McKeon, Patrick McKeon, William Tsiknas, William Uterhart, Gordon Field, and Henry George saw hard service in football. In our first cross-country run, a match held with Sandwich between the halves of the Monsignor Coyle game, James Karras won fifth place. Of the four juniors who played basketball, Henry George deserves special mention for tallying seventy-four points. Paul Syriala, Cecil Sullivan, Carl Salo, George Nickerson, and Henry George helped make this one of Mr. Taft's best seasons as coach of baseball, while Patrick McKeon was earning a reputation in the spring track events.

Our girls were no less proficient: Jean Dunham in girls' hockey; Frances Souza, Anita Lorange, Frances Starck, and especially Mabel Pelton in basketball. The hoopsters' successful record of five victories and only two defeats was largely attributable to the work of these girls.

In the spring of 1938, Barnstable High School was granted a National Forensic League Charter and Chapter 818 was immediately organized here. Myrtle Calmas was elected secretary and Mary Keavy, treasurer. Both these girls had helped win the charter by participating in debates throughout the season, and Myrtle had the further honor of being for the second time a member of the debating team for the National Forensic League Tournament in Fall River. Though no members of our class gave declamations, we felt an increased interest this year in the success of the Barnstable High pupils at the district speech tournament held at our school in March. Mrs. Hurst's uphill struggle to establish public speaking at Barnstable was beginning to bear fruit.

We were very active socially this year. We sponsored a well-attended Valentine Dance, and a novel Poverty Ball, in April. The gala event, however, was the Junior Prom: we held revel in a gymnasium transformed into an African jungle, from the recesses of which primeval forms of wild life peered forth. Strange did the Grand March—the highlight of the evening—appear, as President James Burke and his guest, Virginia Allen, led the procession beneath festoons of gray and green moss.

Proudly a group of ninety-two full-fledged seniors returned in the fall of 1938. Realizing that this was to be the last year together as a class, we determined to make every moment count. The leaders chosen were William Uterhart, president; Carl Salo, vice-president; Carol Scudder, secretary; Paul Syriala, treasurer. We were deeply disappointed in losing our kindly adviser, Mr. Manning, who accepted a teaching position in Andover soon after school opened; but we felt confident of a well-ordered year as a class when we choose Miss Katherine Nehubian to guide us. Elections were completed with choosing Jean Dunham to the Student Council.

There were several changes in the teaching staff and in the curriculum. Mr. Leo Shields joined the faculty as a teacher of history; Miss Alice Noble, of mathematics; Miss Marian Brink, of French; and Miss Mary Murphy, of home economics. Mr. Ellis Cornish came as full-time librarian and has made the library for us a source of enjoyment and for the first time a workable treasure house of reference. A new and practical course, the Vocational Boatbuilding and Boat Operation Course, was organized to give effective training to the nautical minded. Boys enrolled in this field of study do part of their work at the Crosby boatbuilding shop in Osterville. Classmates who have studied boatbuilding are William Mott, Wilbur Cushing, and Edwin Lagergren.

Musical activities have been prominent during our senior year. Though the band played for assemblies and for the dedication of the Hyannis Post Office in the early spring, the rehearsals of all musical organizations pointed to the Eastern Music Festival as the goal of their efforts. The Festival Concert, held in Symphony Hall in Boston, Friday evening, March 17, was broadcast over station WAAB from eight until nine-thirty. Thirteen members of the Class of 1939 took part, Nicholas Fortes and Jean Dunham deserving special commendation. On May 13 the band journeyed to Belmont and played in the Massachusetts Music Festival. Nicholas Fortes brought laurels home to Barnstable by winning the highest rating possible on the tuba and the sousaphone.

On November 17, James Burke, Myrtle Calmas, and Carl Salo were senior representatives for our Student Council at the conference of the Southeastern Massachusetts Division of Student Councils at Sharon. Early in December, Myrtle Calmas and Jean Dunham went as part of the delegation to represent Barnstable at another Student Council Conference at the Roxbury Memorial High School, Roxbury, Massachusetts.

Dramatics has continued as one of our deeper interests. In the Senior Dramatic Club two seniors, Carol Scudder and Bryant Scudder, were elected as president and vice-president respectively. Nineteen others of us have been members of the club this year. At Christmas the group presented "Dust of the Road," a modern morality play, in which Katherine Cotter, Louis Williams, and Oliver Bowman performed their parts well. In April we were proud to see the dramatic reputation established when we were juniors attract an audience of 475 to "The Ghost Train," sponsored by the Class of 1940. Gordon Jerauld was the only senior to appear in the production, but the play could not have been so striking as it was without the train effects worked out by James Karras and four other classmates.

Again this year, Myrtle Calmas and Mary Keavy were members of the debating teams and were sent to represent Barnstable at the Fourth Annual National Forensic Tournament at Groton. Mary Keavy was president of the Barnstable Chapter of the National Forensic League. In the district tournament held in Barnstable in February, Gordon Field ranked high in original oratory, and Carol Scudder gave a dramatization of "The Death of the Hired Man."

Roger Hamblin deserves mention for his excellent skill and high judgment when representing our agricultural department. In 1937 he had won second prize in a milk judging contest in competition with boys from all parts of Massachusetts; in September 1938, he won first prize and became State Champion in milk judging. Last fall the Barnstable branch of the Future Farmers of America elected Roger president.

Seniors dominated the athletic picture this year. The entire football team, composed for the most part of seniors and under the leadership of Captain Tsiknas, deserves much credit for the season's record of seven victories and only three defeats. Coach MacSwan was assisted by Leo Shields as line coach to such good effect that the staunch Barnstable line was the subject of admiring discussion in surrounding towns. Particularly commendable was the playing of Charles Bearse, who earned honorable mention on the All-State Football Team. John McKeon, Gordon Field, and Charles Bearse also won positions on the All-Cape first team, with several other seniors being placed on the second team or receiving honorable mention. At the annual football banquet in December, William Fratus was presented the Hinkle Trophy for good sportsmanship, and with it an award given for the first time this year which will enable him to continue his education. We are all happy for William; perseverance—silent perseverance—is too infrequently rewarded.

In basketball Henry George for the second year led with highest scoring average, closely trailed by John McKeon, George Nickerson, and Patrick McKeon. Though the boys played raggedly at times, they furnished their spectators with several hair-raising finishes.

Carl Salo, Paul Syriala, and Cecil Sullivan have played their usual dependable game in baseball. The tennis courts built a year ago have proved a substantial source of recreation, and organized instruction in tennis has been given to both boys and girls this year. Edwin Lagergren and William Mott have been active golfers this season. With James Karras and Henry George as co-captains, the track team has been organized and is doing praiseworthy work.

The girl athletes have assumed an air of superiority this year—and, if records are worthwhile, that air is justified. Led by Jean Dunham, the hockey team went through the season undefeated, untied, unscored upon. Likewise, the basketball team, captained by Mabel Pelton, marched through a schedule of nine victories and one tie.

The minstrel show, presented to a packed and appreciative house early in February, revealed much talent—some of it quite unexpected. James Burke proved a genial interlocutor; Raymond Silva as a singing matador in “Ferdinand the Bull” brought down the house; and Dennis Thomas with his plaintive selection added a tone of seriousness.

In March our class chose Virginia Allen to be the Good Citizenship Pilgrim from Barnstable High School to the Annual Convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the Copley Plaza Hotel in Boston.

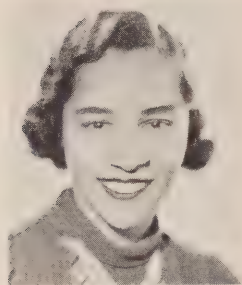

About the same time Alden Childs won first prize and Charles Bearse second in an essay contest on “Americanism” offered by the Elks and participated in by pupils of Cape Cod high schools.

Our last social event before the Junior Prom and that subsequent launching into little-known seas at our graduation exercises was an informal spring dance on May 12.

Wish as we might that we could stay as close to one another in the future as we have been during these happy high school years, our class must now disperse. Where our several roads lead we cannot say, but this we know: three hundred years of Barnstable history have gone into making this school which we have loved; and these three hundred years have brought high hopes to the hearts of our friends, our instructors, and our hard-working parents. These are hopes which we must fulfill.

HELEN AGUIAR

Hyannis

"Tis loving and serving the highest and best."

Helen's interpretation of the "Whirling Dervish" in the Minstrel Show has forecast for her a successful career as a torch singer. Helen has always been so reserved that only a few of us know how much time she has given working in the background on school activities. The properties closet of the Senior Dramatic Club is stocked with articles from angels' to tramps' wigs, all of her making.

Second Band 1, 2; Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Minstrel Show 3, 4; Dramatic Club 3, 4; Hockey.

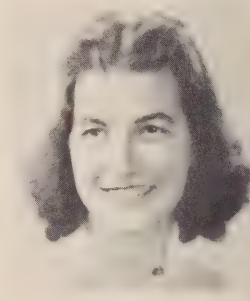

VIRGINIA ALLEN

Osterville

"Give her deeds to do and they will be done."

There is no more dependable girl in the Class of 1939 than Jinny. When she isn't striving for its benefit, she bides her time with Jimmy Burke. No wonder she was chosen the Good Citizenship Pilgrim from our class. She will undoubtedly keep up her good work when she goes to Bridgewater this fall.

CHARLES BEARSE

Hyannis

"Not lazy, just nonchalant."

Sometimes the boys took advantage of Charlie's good nature, but on the football field they stayed out of his way, for he was as fast as a cyclone when he broke loose. We hear that there is movement on foot, hotly sponsored by Charles' creditors, to withhold his diploma until he returns the various things borrowed during the last few years!

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 2, 4; Interclass Basketball 4.

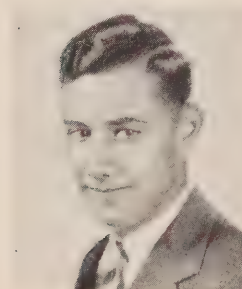

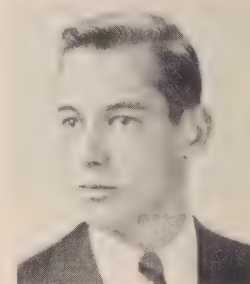

HAROLD BEARSE

Hyannis

"Men of few words are the best men!"

Harold's "few words" are usually employed in argument. He has a gift for neatness and a weakness for a dark-haired French damsel.

AUSTIN BELL

Hyannis Port

*"He trudg'd along unknowing what he sought
And whistled as he went, for want of thought."*

Austin has been conspicuous among us in offering his services both in school and outside activities. If he keeps this habit after he becomes an aviation mechanic, he will fill his place well in this world's work.

CLIFFORD BONNA

Barnstable

*"Hang sorrow! Care will kill a cat.
And therefore, let's be merry."*

Though always ready for a good time, come what may, "Cliff" is willing and able to get down to work. He should be at the top in the business of keeping the airplane up to par because he enjoys working with machinery.

Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4.

MADELINE BOURGET

Hyannis

"Such popularity must be deserved."

Madeline didn't enter B.H.S. until her junior year, yet it was not long before she found her place in the Class of '39 and became a really popular member. Sometimes she blushes fit to "bearse"!

Junior Prom 3; Minstrel Show 4; Social Committee 4; Barnacle and Minstrel Show Advertising Committee 4.

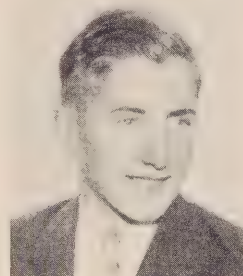

JAMES BOWEN

Centerville

*"A little work, a little play,
To keep us going—and so, good day!"*

We recollect little of James' school career except his ready smile. Denizens of Centerville tell another story, particularly about catcalls on warm evenings and about the disappearance of melons in the night. For further information, call Hyannis 1537M.

Glee Club 3; Minstrel Show 4.

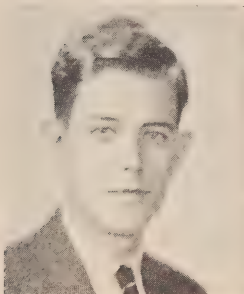

OLIVER BOWMAN

Barnstable

"Be silent and safe—silence never betrays you."

Oliver takes such an active interest in all sports that no game would be complete without him in the audience. He is going to follow sports writing as a career. Better polish that punctuation, Oliver.

Clipper 1, 2, 3; Dramatic Club 2, 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4; Class Motto Committee 4; Christmas Play 3, 4.

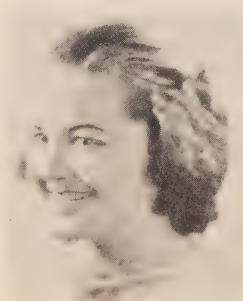

EMMA BOYNE

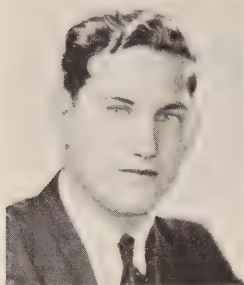

Hyannis Port

"It is quality the world wants, never quantity."

Emma is always busy, quiet, efficient, and pleasant. With her desire to lend a helping hand, she'll go far in this world, because she is one of the most capable business girls in the class. Witness her success in correspondence for advertisements in "The Barnacle."

Music Festival 2; Clipper 2, 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Social Committee 3; Minstrel Show 4; Barnacle Staff 4.

JAMES BURKE

Hyannis

"Whatever is worth doing, is worth doing well."

Undoubtedly Jimmy deserves much credit for the excellent work he did last year as president of our class, for the feats he performed on the gridiron, and for his presidency of the Student Council this year. He has made himself popular, both in and out of school, and possesses strong character and strong personality. Do what he will, he will do it well.

Football 1, 2, 3; Student Council 2, 3, 4; Class President 3; Home Representative 3; Minstrel Show 4; A. A. 4.

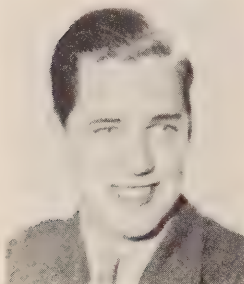

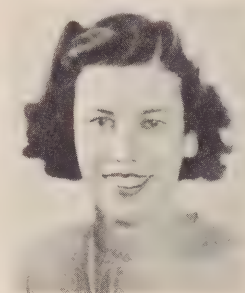

ADELE BURLINGANE

Osterville

"She is pretty to walk with, and witty to talk with, and pleasant, too — to think on."

Adele's pretty face and sweet nature will help her to progress far when she goes to the Waltham Training School for Nursing. Better not cast eyes at John Hinckley, Adele. He is taking eight courses already to keep up with his class.

Glee Club 3, 4.

ROBERT CAHOON

Hyannis

"Men are but children of larger growth."

Since he is one of the slow and easy type, Robert should make a good garage mechanic. He certainly likes to "putter around" engines.

Football 3; Dramatic Club 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Boy's Cooking Class 3; Minstrel Show 4.

MYRTLE CALMAS

Hyannis

"The head and the heart go together."

Debator, class officer, Student Council member, honor student, "Myrt" has been a busy girl. However, she always has found time to turn on that flashing personality smile. Best of luck in college, "Myrt!"

Speaking Contest 1; Minstrel Show 1, 2, 4; Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Dramatic Club 2, 3, 4; Student Council 2, 3, 4; Debating 2, 3, 4; Better Speech Club 2, 3; Patriot 2; Clipper Staff 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Bank Director 3, 4; National Forensic League 3, 4; Vice-President of Junior Class 3; Class Day Committee 4; Music Festival 3; Cheer-leader 3.

ALDEN CHILDS

Hyannis

"Make haste slowly."

Until this year Alden took a back seat in class affairs. This year, through his ability in art, he has become an important factor in making ready our "Barnacle." We have also received word via the grapevine that Alden is taking up where Robin Hood left off. By the way, Alden, how many miles have you traversed between Miss Jones' room and Mr. Cheever's this spring?

Interclass Volley Ball 1, 2; Basketball 4; Barnacle Staff 4; Barnacle Advertising Staff 4; Archery Club 4.

KATHARINE COTTER

Osterville

*"A girl who can work, a girl who can play,
A girl who is a good friend every day."*

Kay, the class clown and man-hater, has brightened many a day with her witty comments. She can be serious, however, and will make a lively "school ma'am."

Ring Committee 3; Patriot Staff 3; Dramatic Club 3, 4; A. A. 3; Hockey 4; Glee Club 4; Minstrel Show 4; Barnacle Staff 4.

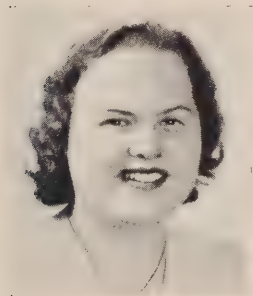

ANNE CROCKER

Barnstable

*"Make the coming hours o'er flow with joy,
And pleasure drown the brim."*

That Anne has so many friends is no wonder. Wherever you meet her, she gives you a pleasant word and a smile. She intends to become a business woman and half her battles are won, thanks to her personality.

Hockey 1; Band 1, 2; Vaudeville 1; Glee Club 3, 4; Music Festival 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4; Social Committee 4.

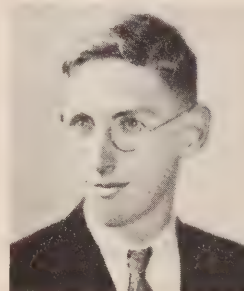

CHARLES CROCKER

Centerville

"I am not in the roll of common men."

Charles may not be at the top in the English class, but no one "tops" him in science. He has been a sincere friend, even though he has snapped pictures of us when we have been unaware. He will surely succeed at M. I. T.

Barnacle Staff 4; Minstrel Show 4.

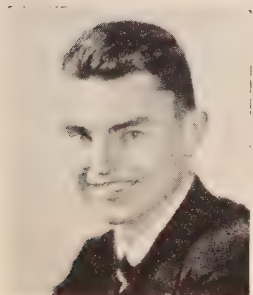

BRADFORD CROSBY

Osterville

"His bark is worse than his bite."

"Brad" is a quiet, congenial friend. Need we ask what he intends to do for a career? He will undoubtedly follow in the Crosby footsteps and become a boatbuilder worthy the family tradition.

MARION CROWELL

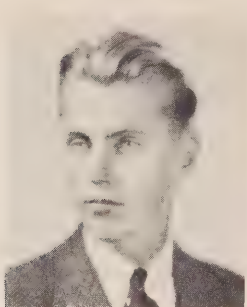

Hyannis

"A steady pace is best for the steep hill."

Marion wants to enter the business world, in which field her practical and efficient nature are sure to make her successful. In fact, she has already started her career at Kenney's Sport Shop.

Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4.

WILBUR CUSHING

Marstons Mills

"If he had faults, he left us in doubt."

To a stranger, "Wimpy" seems like a quiet boy, but we know his more boisterous side. He is now studying boat building and hopes to be a yacht builder. Perhaps he would have been an artist instead, if Miss Jones had not suppressed his "self-expression." Ah! That's what it is to have the artistic temperament.

Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Track 2; Golf 4.

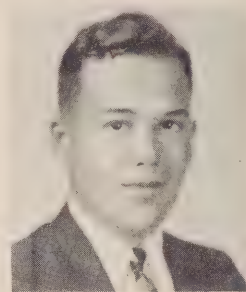

MANUEL DAVIS

West Barnstable

"I'd rather have a fool to make me merry than experience to make me sad."

"Mannie" likes woodworking and singing. When he isn't spending time in song, he's puzzling out some means of enjoyment.

Glee Club 3, 4; A. A. 3.

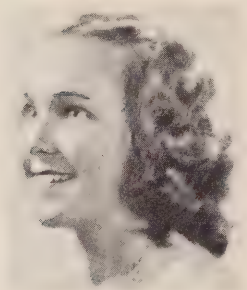

BARBARA DOANE

Cotuit

"What sweet delights a quiet life affords!"

"Barb" always has a smile for everyone and enjoys a good laugh. Although quiet and unassuming, she is, we hear, an accomplished acrobatic dancer. Perhaps we shall see her return to town some fine day in a circus.

A. A. 2, 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4.

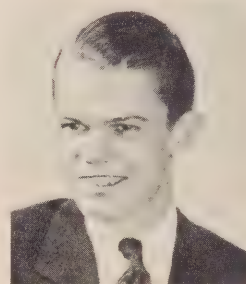

DONALD DREW

Hyannis

"To do nothing is in every man's power."

"Donny" is a friend and good sport on all occasions. He earned his letter in football and starred in his position as tackle. If steadiness and will power count in life, Donald is going to make his way.

Football 1, 2, 3; A. A. 1, 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4; Barnacle Advertising Staff 4; Class Day Committee 4.

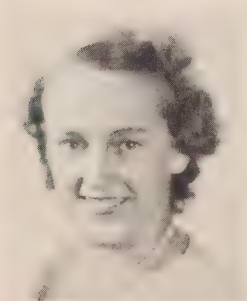

JEAN DUNHAM

Centerville

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage beast."

Jean has the credit of being the most genuine toiler among the girls in her class. She has also commanded our admiration as a musician and hockey captain. Always quiet and refined, she has left with us a definite impression of good citizenship which we will remember always.

Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 1, 2, 3; Basketball 2, 3; Glee Club 2, 3; Junior Ring Committee 3; New England Music Festival 2, 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4; Student Council 4.

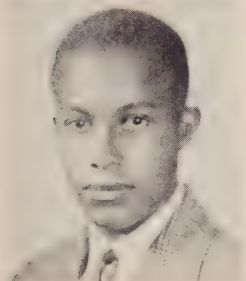

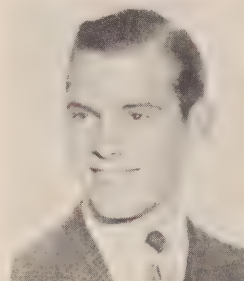

GORDON FIELD

West Barnstable

"Had I three ears, I'd hear thee!"

"Moonus" was an outstanding fullback and made the honor roll, too, although it took him until his senior year to do so. Gordon will probably go on to school, but is having a hard time deciding where. Perhaps when the colleges see his pictures, they will make him attractive offers. But why a person with his lung power wishes to mend teeth we cannot understand; he would be an ideal train announcer.

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3, 4; A. A. 2, 3, 4; Dramatic Club 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 3, 4; Prom Committee 3; Dance Committee 3; Baseball 4; Barnacle Staff 4; Barnacle and Minstrel Show Advertising Staffs 4.

AYRES FORTES

Hyannis

"He's a sure card."

Ayres is a hard player and good sport. Athletics was one of his major interests at school. He is certain to profit from what clean play and high sportsmanship have taught him.

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 2, 3, 4; Basketball 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Assistant Manager Track 3; Manager Track 4.

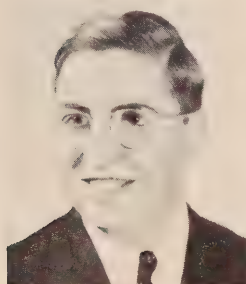

NICHOLAS FORTES

Hyannis

*"There is no truer truth obtainable
By man than comes of music."*

If there is anything musical going on, you'll find "Nick" near at hand, willing to take part. He has a happy musical career in store for him, for he has won a prize in competition with many other horn players and is considered one of the best performers on that instrument in Massachusetts high schools.

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Dance Committee 3; Music Festival 2, 3, 4; Interclass Basketball 3, 4.

WILLIAM FRATUS

Hyannis

"Sportsmanship itself."

"Bill" has always done his bit, but because he was so modest, few of us knew of his deeds. For four years he has plugged away, never complaining, trying to make the first team in football — and this year he was awarded the Hinkle Trophy!

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Interclass Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 3, 4; Class Day Committee 4.

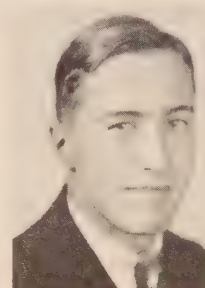

HENRY GEORGE

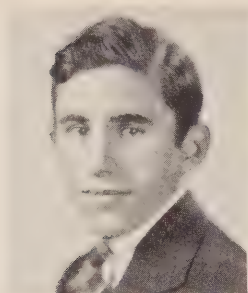

Barnstable

*"That combination is so rare to beat,
The student and the athlete."*

Every sport enthusiast knows Henry as Old Faithful. "Farmer" has an appealing personality, is a good student, and has been a commendable basketball captain, besides being a four-letter man.

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Interclass Basketball 1, 2; Track 1, 3, 4; A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 3, 4; Baseball 3, 4.

WALTER GOMES

Marstons Mills

"Hospitality sitting with Gladness."

"Lefty" has always been a conscientious, hard worker. Anything he starts receives all his attention until it is finished. We are always reminded of the friendly feud that is constantly being waged between "Lefty" and "Farmer" George.

Interclass Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Interclass Volleyball 1, 2, 4; Clipper 1; Football 2, 3, 4; Track 2, 3; Baseball 2, 3; Glee Club 3; A. A. 3; Barnacle Staff 4.

ADOLPHUS GRACE

Hyannis

"O Sleep! It is a gentle thing."

"Moses" is likely to be somewhat "touchy" when irritated, but his usual somnolence keeps him from becoming dangerously angry. Remember, Adolphus, when you worked overtime, sleeping after 2:48 in Room 105?

Volley Ball 1; Basketball 2; Baseball 3, 4; Football 4; Minstrel Show 4.

CHRIST GRAMMATICUS

Hyannis

"It is easier not to speak a word at all than to speak more words than we should."

Until recently his extreme reserve has hidden Christ's now proved ability. His good work in school has caused us to take notice of and really see his qualifications. Chris plans to be a dentist, but why not a tennis champion?

Clipper 1; Dramatic Club 3, 4.

LILLIE GRONLUND

West Barnstable

"Truth hath a quiet breast."

Along with a pleasant disposition, Lillie has that neatness which is such an asset to a nurse or business woman. Why won't you speak to the West Barnstable boys, Lillie? Aren't the fish in the sea good enough over there?

A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4.

ROGER HAMBLIN

Marstons Mills

"A man of purpose."

Roger is a student of agriculture and a good one. His ability and cheerful personality will make him a successful "future farmer of America"—in spite of his distaste for Hamlet. We wager, Roger, that you first turned in this book to "Jones."

Track 1, 2, 3, Cross Country 2, 3; President of F. F. A. 4.

JANE HARRIS

Barnstable

"When she sang, mortal ears heard the music of the spheres."

"Janie" has been a real friend throughout our high school career, with her frankness and sunny disposition. She has a change of heart quite frequently, but at present she is interested in the printer's boy.

Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Clipper 1, 2, 3; Minstrel Show 1, 3, 4; Hockey 1, 2, 3, and Manager 4; A. A. 2, 3, 4; Better Speech Club 2; Social Committee 3; Basketball Manager 4.

TOINI HEMMILA

Hyannis

"Virtue is bold, and goodness never fearful."

"Tiny," without a doubt, has the most dependable disposition in the class. From day to day Toini remains the same calm, smiling, helpful classmate. She ranks very high as a scholar. What hospital are you going to nurse at, Toini? We'll be run down just outside.

A. A. 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Ring Committee 3; Hockey 4; Minstrel Show 4; Class Motto Committee 4.

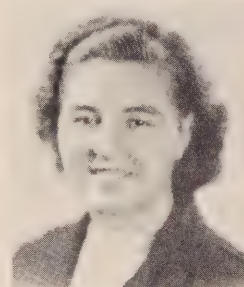

DOROTHY HIGGINS

Hyannis

*"Happy am I; from care I'm free.
Why aren't they all contented like me?"*

There must be someone with one of those "happy-go-lucky" dispositions in every group, and "Dot" filled that need for the Class of '39.

Basketball 1, 2, 3; Hockey 1, 2, 3; Interclass Basketball and Hockey 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4.

MIRIAM HILL

Hyannis

"A mind at peace with all below."

Our recollection of Miriam will be one of serene quietness, yet a little baffling, too. That smile we always elicit when greeting her is a knowing one. Miriam must have some deep life secret, because she will not tell us what she plans to do in after years.

Minstrel Show 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Advertising for Minstrel Show 4, and Barnacle Staff 4.

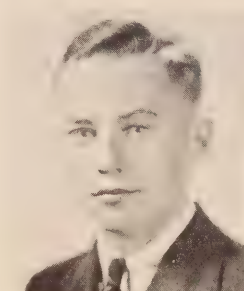

EBEN HINCKLEY

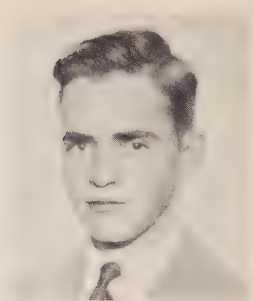

Hyannis

"It's not a chip of the old block; it's the old block itself."

Eben is either manager or assistant manager of almost every boys' athletic team. In the locker room or on the field, it's always the same cry, "Where's Eben?" He is planning to assist his father in the plumbing business after graduation.

Assistant Manager of Baseball and Basketball 3; All Sports' Manager 4; Glee Club 4.

GORHAM HINCKLEY

Barnstable

"Ride on over all obstacles and win the race."

"Mike" is never bothered by call-downs before the class. At the first chance he has to do something which would merit a rebuke, he does it. Although he is forever "in Dutch," that ever-present smile disarms those about to punish him.

Minstrel Show 4.

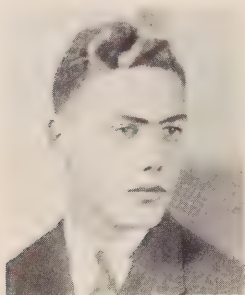

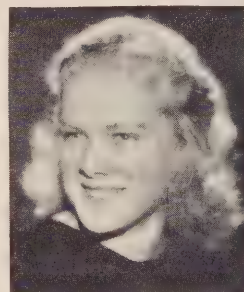

FLORENCE HORD

Marstons Mills

"Be always brave and true and lovely, Vivid and happy."

Florence was voted the prettiest girl in the class, well deserving that honor. Her reticent yet understanding nature will help her when she trains to be a nurse.

Hockey 1, 4; Interclass Hockey 1, 3, 4; Interclass Basketball 2, 4; A. A. 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Dramatic Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4; Social Committee 4; Advertising for Minstrel Show and Barnacle 4.

WILLIAM HOWES

Hyannis

"A lion among ladies is a most dreadful thing."

William is a fast-stepping modern "Romeo" who is rarely if ever serious. His pleasing personality will surely help him to attain success, though he has not told us what he wishes to do.

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 2, 3, 4; Music Festival 2, 3, 4; Boys' Glee Club 3, 4; Intramural Basketball 4; Minstrel Show 4.

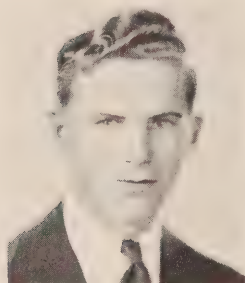

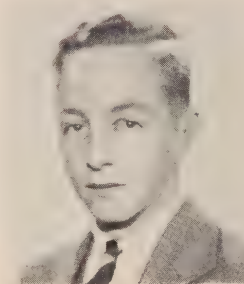

GORDON JERAULD

Barnstable

"My library — was dukedom large enough."

Gordon is full of good cheer, regardless of the time and place. Always pleasant, he's a good friend to all. Though he seems diffident sometimes, he is a better than average student.

Glee Club 3, 4; Dramatic Club 3, 4; Interclass Basketball 3; Track 3; Music Festival 3, 4; Minstrel Show 3, 4.

FREDERICK JOHNSON

West Barnstable

"He was a good fellow."

Indeed, we all know Fred to be a good fellow. If it pleases him, he can also do exceptional work in his studies; however, frequently we find evidence of its not pleasing him. Right, Miss Harris?

Track 1, 2; Interclass Basketball 1, 2.

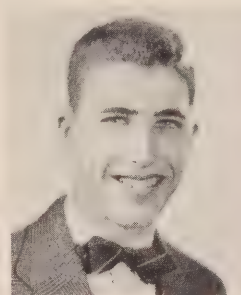

ALLAN JONES

Barnstable

"Plain living and high thinking are no more."

"Chappy" is indeed a carefree young man, who, being well-groomed, receives plenty of free care from the girls. You see, he wears a bow tie to perfection. Though he does not himself participate in them, Allan is an ardent follower of all sports. He has long been the mainstay of our Boys' Glee Club.

Band 1, 2, 3; Football 1, 2; Intramural Basketball 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Music Festival 4; Home Room Representative 4.

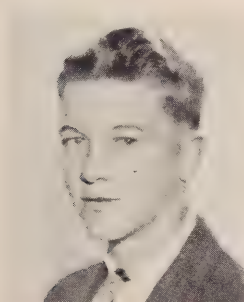

FRANK JONES

Osterville

"Books! 'Tis a dull and endless strife."

"Babe's" blond head is a familiar sight wherever there is any loafing going on. His frequent little indispositions are not to be obstacles in his path to success, for he has chosen his own best cure for all his ills—the Navy.

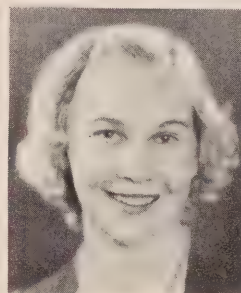

NANCY JONES

Marstons Mills

"From the madding crowd she stands apart."

"Nan" is generally quiet and poised, but sometimes we see evidence of her more frolicsome side. Very efficient and conscientious, she has already found herself a place in the business world.

Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3; Interclass Basketball and Hockey 2, 3, 4; Junior Dance Committee 3; Glee Club 3, 4; A. A. 3, 4; Barnacle and Minstrel Show Advertising Committees 4; Minstrel Show 4.

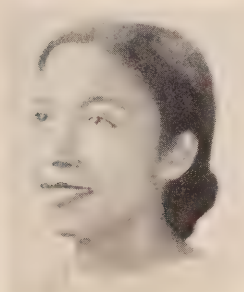

JENNIE JOSEPH

Hyannis

"Well-timed silence hath more eloquence than speech."

Jennie is always quiet, yet you'll find her wherever there is a dance. Her greatest asset is her desire to help, and for that we wish her happiness.

Glee Club 3, 4.

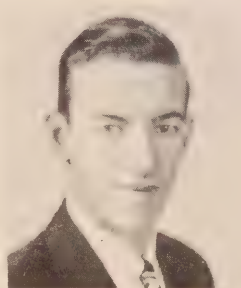

JAMES KARRAS

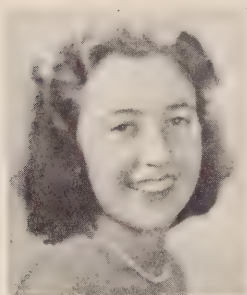

Barnstable

"A real Spartan."

Jimmy has always been one who smiles in situations where others would have lost their temper. He specialized in the cross country run in track and did well in basketball. His performance as an end man in the Minstrel Show was excellent.

Football 1; Track 2, 3, 4; Cross Country, 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Interclass Basketball 3; Minstrel Show 3, 4; Basketball 4; Baseball 4.

MARY KEAVY

Hyannis

"Indued with a sanctity of reason."

Mary's interests throughout her school career have been varied: debating, acting, writing for the school paper. She is also the possessor of honor grades, but her main interest this year has been another Field. We feel sure that Mary will be just as successful and versatile in college as she has been in high school.

Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Minstrel Show 1, 2, 4; Clipper 1; Debating 2, 3, 4; Dramatic Club 2, 3, 4; Better Speech Club 2, 3; A. A. 2, 4; Patriot Staff 2; Cheer Leader 3; Music Festival 3; Barnacle Staff 4.

EDITH KELLEY

Hyannis

"Blushing is the color of virtue."

Edith's petiteness will help her to look charming in an air hostess uniform. Be sure to inform us as to the airline in which you are employed, Edith.

Orchestra 1, 2, 3; Minstrel Show 1, 4; Operetta 1; Speaking Contest 1; Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Hockey 4.

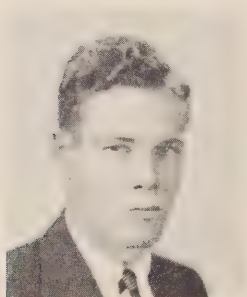

EDWIN LAGERGREN

Osterville

*"Hail there, fellow well met,
Be merry today — tomorrow forget."*

"Red" can always find fault, but little do we care. He works hard at anything (that pleases him). Here's to his success in the boat building business.

Golf 2; Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 3, 4.

IRENE LAMPI

West Barnstable

"The modest woman has everything to gain."

Irene is so quiet that we hardly know when she is present. However, her sudden sparks of humor and good sportsmanship make her a staunch friend. We have noted the marked originality and excellence of her art work and think that she would succeed as an illustrator.

Barnacle Staff 4.

BARBARA LANDERS

Cotuit

"In action faithful, and in honor clear."

Barbara's calm, practical, obliging nature will make her an excellent nurse. Please, "Barb," follow your plans, just for the patients' sakes.

Minstrel Show 1, 2, 4; Hockey 2, 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Class Motto Committee 4; Barnacle and Minstrel Show Advertising Staffs 4; Clipper Typing Staff 4.

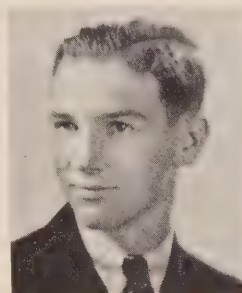

HARDING LAPHAM

Marstons Mills

"The most manifest sign of wisdom is continual cheerfulness."

A boisterous, cheerful lad is "Buddy." Besides being a good art student, he is a near-genius in woodworking and hopes to become an expert cabinetmaker.

Glee Club 3, 4.

PAULINE LIBBY

Barnstable

"I am resolved to grow fat and look young 'till forty."

Pauline has a very amiable nature and a kindly attitude toward all who meet her. With this quality and her course in household arts behind her, she should be keeping someone's oil-stove burning not many years hence.

Glee Club 3, 4; Hockey 4; Minstrel Show 4.

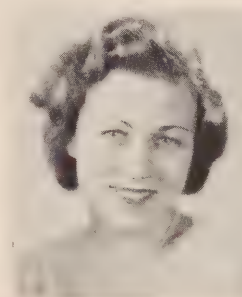

ANITA LORANGE

Cotuit

*"If ladies be but young and fair,
They have the gift to know it."*

In "Nita's" case the old adage that "still water runs deep" is changed to "swift water runs deep." Her aim in life is the sequel to "Two Cigarettes in the Dark."

Basketball 1, 2, 3; Interclass Basketball 1, 2, 3; Golf 2; Dramatic Club 2, 3, 4; A. A. 2; Glee Club 3, 4; Prom Committee 3; Cheerleader 3, 4; Social Committee 4.

KATHLEEN LOVELL

Marstons Mills

"Be wise worldly; not worldly wise."

Kathleen has always impressed us as being very retiring and unobtrusive. Her ready smile and pleasant greeting helped to establish her as a friendly classmate. In her quiet way she is a capable worker as an assistant to the librarian at Marstons Mills.

Hockey 1, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; A. A. 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4; Inter-class Hockey 4.

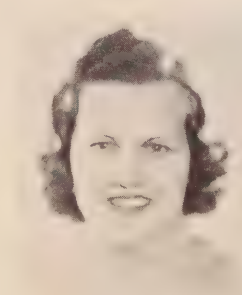

SHIRLEY LOVEQUIST

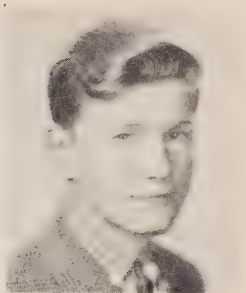

Centerville

"Is she not passing fair?"

Shirley makes friends easily and keeps them a long time, 'tis said. She is particularly adept at hairdressing and plans to be a hairdresser after graduation. Why not be a manicurist, as well, Shirley?

Minstrel Show 1; Glee Club 3, 4; Play Committee 3.

JOHN McKEON

Hyannis

"Silence never betrays you."

John's bashfulness and loud, booming voice are familiar to his classmates and to the townspeople as well. His excellent performance on the football field, the basketball court, and in the Minstrel Show have proved to us that this silent partner can indeed unbend.

Football 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3, 4; Track 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Baseball 4; Minstrel Show 4.

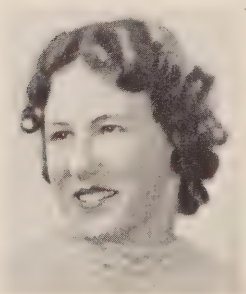

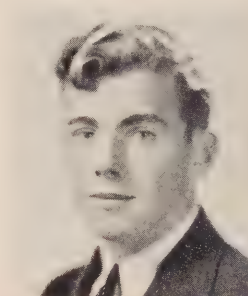

PATRICK McKEON

Hyannis

"The blushing rose."

Pat is one of the popular boys in the senior class. Along with his agreeable disposition and individuality, he has proved his ability on the football field and basketball court.

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3, 4; Track 3, 4; Junior Ring Committee 3; Baseball 4; Minstrel Show 4.

LILLIAN MOORE

Hyannis

"Full many a rose is born to blush unseen."

Pretty, quiet Lillian never forced herself upon us, so we don't know her so well as we might. She wishes to be a book-keeper, but will have to work a year before she can go on to school. Best of luck, Lillian!

Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4; A. A. 4.

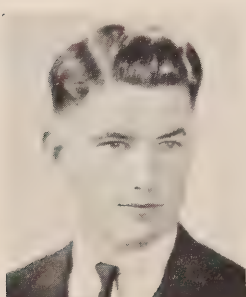

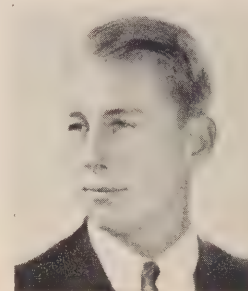

WILLIAM MOTT

Osterville

"He finds comfort in himself and in his cause."

Bill's boisterous manner and skeptical reactions used to be very much in evidence wherever boys were gathered about the schoolhouse, but since he changed over to the boatbuilding course, we hear only the echoes from Crosbytown. Bill's future plans are indefinite: he may ship on the bounding main, or he may send the little white ball bounding over a green, as a golf professional.

Minstrel Show 4; Golf 3; Captain 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Senior Dramatic Club 3, 4; Junior Class Play 4; A. A. 3, 4.

GEORGE NICKERSON

Hyannis

"It is much easier to be critical than correct."

"Nick" has won recognition as one of the most outstanding players on the basketball team this year. He was always ready to assert himself, and his witty answers and puns have furnished the classroom with many a side-splitting laugh.

Interclass Basketball and Volley Ball 1; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Golf 2; Track 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4; Basketball 3, 4.

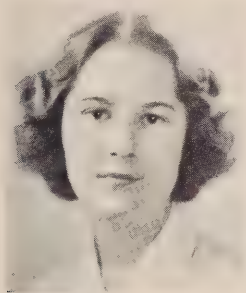

MABEL PELTON

West Barnstable

"We will draw the curtain and show you the picture."

We called Mabel "The Star" because she was an outstanding player, as well as captain, in basketball. She is an excellent painter, but, oddly enough, she desires to become a nurse. Well, that's the profession for a robust girl.

Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Interclass Basketball and Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Clipper 1; Circus 1; Softball League 1; Glee Club 3; Dramatic Club 3, 4; Cheerleader 4; Gifts Committee 4; Barnacle Advertising Committee 4; Minstrel Show 4; Art Director of Junior Class Play 4.

LUCETTE PERRY

Hyannis

"Lord! I wonder what fool it was that first invented kissing."

Lucette is leaving for France in September, but, although she may be overseas, we'll not forget our congenial classmate.

Minstrel Show 4.

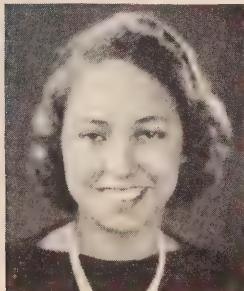

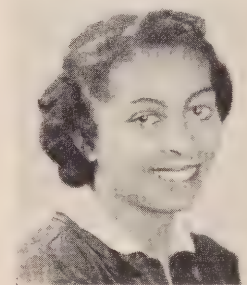

JOSEPHINE PINA

Marstons Mills

"Eat, drink, and be merry."

When we think of Josephine, we think first of a broad smile. With her marked ability in household arts and her jolly nature, she will make someone a good wife.

Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 3.

RHODELLA POMPAY

Hyannis Port

"Studying doesn't interfere with her education."

The band would have been sadly crippled this year if Rhodella, our trim, neat drum major, had not been available. Rhodella's future is concerned with "Pompay-dours"—in the fall she will enter Wilfred Academy, a school of hairdressing.

Dramatic Club 2; Glee Club 3, 4; Band 2, 3; Drum Major 4; Minstrel Show 4.

RITA ROBERT

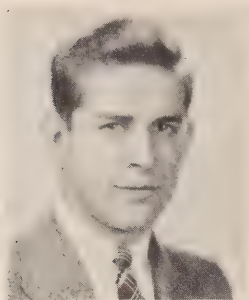

Hyannis

"Nature gives to every time and season some beauty of its own."

Rita seems to have a very definite talent for hairdressing. School for her has been preparation for this work.

Minstrel Show 1, 2, 4; Glee Club 2, 3; Hockey 4.

ELDON RUCKER

Hyannis

"Never do today what you can put off until tomorrow."

A born sheik, a typical playboy, Eldon is going to make life give him some fun. We have always found him obliging, ready to lend a hand in any enterprise for the good of his class or his school.

A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Golf 2, 4; Glee Club 3; Dramatic Club 3, 4; Music Festival 3; Minstrel Show 3, 4; Social Committee 4.

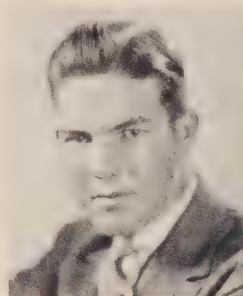

CARL SALO

West Barnstable

"He knew what is what."

Carl has shown us that he can do excellent work in all of his studies, especially mathematics. He has proved himself very capable in baseball and basketball, well earning his letter. All this has undoubtedly been the result of his recent Slavin.

Interclass Basketball 1, 2; Treasurer of Class 2; Baseball 2, 3, 4; Bank Director 2; Student Council 3, 4; Basketball 3, 4; Vice-President of Class 4.

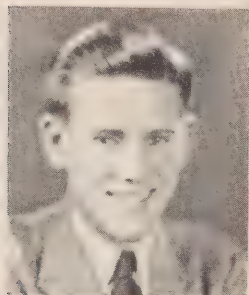

BRYANT SCUDDER

Hyannis

"Oh, women! Perfect women! What a distraction!"

We have heard it said that to meet Bryant is to know him, but we will wager that not many know of his escapades down in Harwich. He has the unusual capacity for furnishing laughter for everyone without being in the least self-conscious.

Orchestra 1, 2; Music Festival 2, 3, 4; Football 2; Clipper 2, 3; Junior Prom Committee 3; Minstrel Show 3, 4; Glee Club 4; Dramatic Club 3, 4; Social Committee 4; Minstrel Show Committee 4.

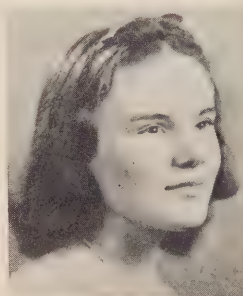

CAROL SCUDDER

Osterville

"She has a faculty of finding out that which is attractive."

"Scud" is a born flirt, but lately she has curbed her flirty nature because she has finally met her equal at the game of "wink." She is cheerful, witty, and understanding—we're sure she'll succeed as a nurse. That Nurse Scudder-Doctor Uterhart team ought to be a good one.

Clipper 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Speaking Contest 1; A. A. 2, 3, 4; Class President 2; Minstrel Show 2, 3, 4; Secretary of Class 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Music Festival 3, 4; Dramatic Club 3, 4; Advertising Minstrel Show and Barnacle 4; National Forensic Speaking Contest 4.

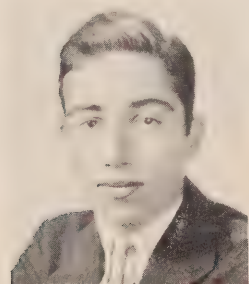

ROSS SETHARES

Hyannis

"I think I know the delights of freedom."

Ross is best characterized as being very carefree. His chief interest, according to his most intimate friends, is to relate in class the events of the previous evening.

Glee Club 3, 4; Football 3, 4; Assistant Manager of Baseball 3.

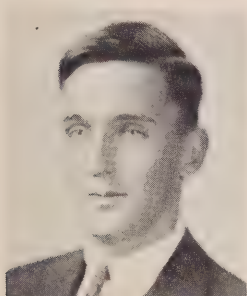

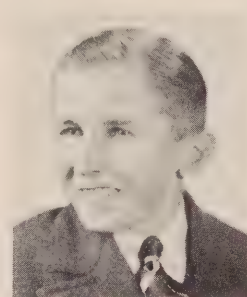

RAYMOND SILVA

Hyannis

"Not worth his weight in silver, but worth twice his weight in gold."

Ray has been one of the best liked students of the class. His cheery smile and "Hy! Oh! Silver!" have made friends of all students. Both coaches and players have agreed that Ray was the ideal manager. His performance, "Ferdinand and the Bull," brought down the house in the Minstrel Show.

All-Sports Assistant Manager 3; All-Sports Manager 4; Minstrel Show 4; Barnacle and Minstrel Show Advertising Staff 4; Minstrel Show 4.

HARVEY SINNETT

Marstons Mills

*"A peace above all earthly dignities,
A still and quiet conscience."*

Harvey is quiet and unobtrusive, but his friends know him for the good sport he is. With limited facilities he can create gadgets that others wouldn't attempt. He will make good in any part of his chosen field, the radio industry.

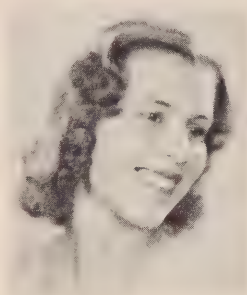

FRANCES SOUZA

Osterville

*"The glass of fashion and the mold of form,
The observed of all observers."*

Rome had its day, Damon his Pythias, and vice versa; but it's enough that we "have our Susie." May she be as popular when she leaves school.

Basketball 2, 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Cheerleader 3, 4; A. A. 3; Junior Dance Committee 3; Minstrel Show 3; Social Committee 4; Barnacle Advertising Staff 4.

FRANCES STARCK

Centerville

*"Her very frowns are fairer far
Than smiles of other maidens are."*

"Frannie" is quiet and reserved but easily makes steadfast friends. With her winning personality the future should be a bright one for her in whatever she attempts.

Clipper 1; Circus 1; Interclass Softball 1; Basketball 2, 3, 4; Secretary of Class 2; Social Committee 3; Prom Committee 3; Glee Club 3; President of Glee Club 4; Minstrel Show 4; Advertising Committee for Minstrel Show and Barnacle.

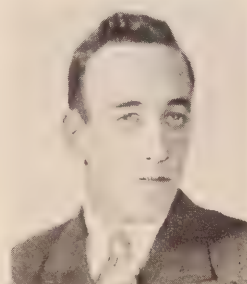

CECIL SULLIVAN

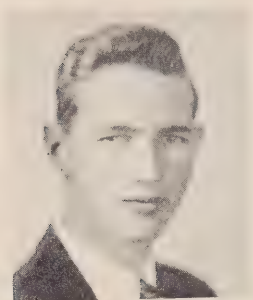

Hyannis

*"Life is a jest; all things show it.
I thought so once, but now I know it."*

"Sully" is the rangy boy who played halfback with great ability and teamwork. He was particularly proficient in punting and was termed the "greatest kicker on Cape Cod." He excelled in baseball as well. Why shouldn't he attain whatever goal he seeks?

Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3, 4; Football 3, 4; Track 3; Minstrel Show 4.

VARMA SUNDELIN

West Barnstable

"Neat, not gaudy."

"Sundy," to everyone who knows him, is a capital fellow and is always willing to do his share of work. Study seems easy for him, and after he enters college next year, he'll make the amperes and volts sit up and pay attention.

Track 1, 2, 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Barnacle Staff 4.

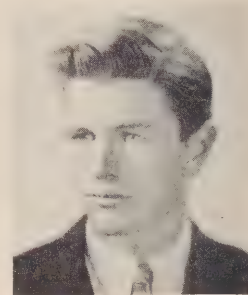

WILLIAM SUTTON

Hyannis

"Your modesty equals your valor, and that surpasses the power of any language I possess."

Anyone who has heard William will not forget his witty puns and remarks. "Red" is a capable, clever letterman in basketball and can produce remarkable cases in commercial law. His future is certain to be as bright as his hair.

Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 3, 4; Glee Club 4; Minstrel Show 4.

PAUL SYRIALA

West Barnstable

"Why should I follow the crowd?"

Paul, with his own unique ideas, has been a high ranking business student for the past four years. He has proved to us that he is honest and efficient in anything he undertakes by being class treasurer for two years.

Baseball 2, 3, 4; Interclass Basketball 2; Class Treasurer 3, 4; Basketball 3, 4; Track 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Football 4; Minstrel Show 4.

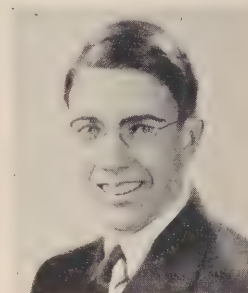

JOHN TERRY

Hyannis

"Defend me from my friends; I can defend myself from my enemies."

Jack is well known and well liked by all of us. How often he has ushered us with urbane smile to seats in the Center Theater! When he finishes college, he will keep the horse alive when others give it up. May John prove as successful a veterinarian as he is a bowler.

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Music Festival 2, 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4.

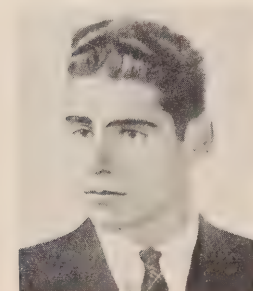

DENNIS THOMAS

Barnstable

"Toil is the law of life and its best fruit."

To most of us Denny was "just a person" until he sang "Thanks for Everything" in the Minstrel Show and shook a few heartstrings.

Glee Club 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4.

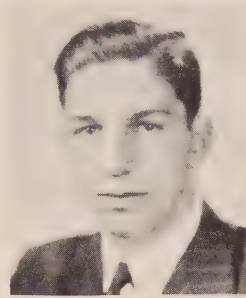

WILLIAM TSIKNAS

Hyannis

"Nothing great was achieved without enthusiasm."

Billy has been a splendid football captain, a clean sport, and a sincere friend to all. He plans to attend a prep school after graduation. Perhaps he should take up radio announcing: we think he could take a prize in any "most-words-per-minute" contest.

Interclass Basketball 1, 2, 3; Football 1, 2, 3; Captain of Football 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Minstrel Show 3, 4; Prom Committee 3; Glee Club 3; Business Manager of Barnacle 4.

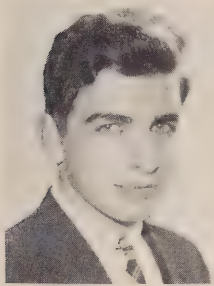

WILLIAM UTERHART

Centerville

"Open rebuke is better than secret love."

Bill came to Barnstable when this class was in the seventh grade. From the first day he rose in our estimation, for he grew to be an excellent student and football player. Perhaps it was these qualities and his genial but unruffled manner that made us elect him class president for our senior year. We need not wish him success in college and beyond; he will have it.

Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Interclass Basketball 1, 2, 4; Track 1, 4; Basketball 3; Ring Committee 3; President of Class 4.

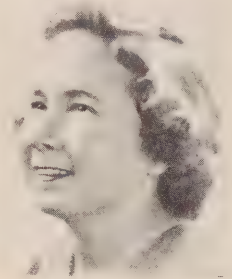

ELEANOR WALLER

West Barnstable

"Better late than never."

Another nurse! All the patients are surely going to be lucky when Eleanor graduates from the Waltham Training School. Sick people have a predilection for blonds, we are told.

Glee Club 3; Minstrel Show 4; Motto Committee 4.

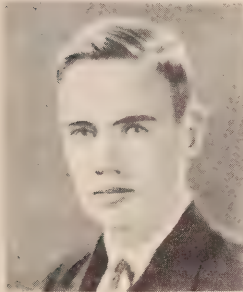

HAROLD WEEKES

West Barnstable

*"My only books
Were woman's looks
And folly's all they've taught me."*

Harold likes the girls — and woodworking; the latter will undoubtedly be his future occupation. He always answers with "Oui, oui," the only words he remembers from his scant gleamings in French.

Orchestra 1, 2, 3; Archery Club 4; Boys' Cooking Class 4.

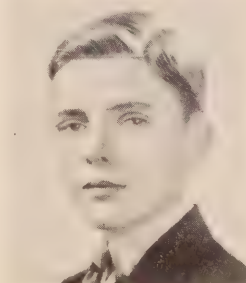

ALBERT WILLIAMS

Osterville

"A very gentle beast and of gentle conscience."

"Tunna" is always present when a touch of humor is needed, and his comical comparisons and expressions brighten any classroom. Albert intends to go to Wilbraham Academy. Now isn't that disloyal to his beloved native land — Osterville!

A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Assistant Track Manager 2; Glee Club 3, 4; Music Festival 3, 4; Minstrel Show 4.

LOUIS WILLIAMS

Osterville

*"We need thy wit and wisdom to resist,
O rarest Optimist."*

One who is witty and wise, Louis has given us many enjoyable moments, both on the gridiron and in the classroom. His keen sense of humor, co-operative spirit, and practical knowledge will see him far.

Vice-President of Class 2; Music Festival 2, 3, 4; A. A. 2, 4; Football 3, 4; Minstrel Show 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Dramatic Club 3, 4; Barnacle Staff 4.

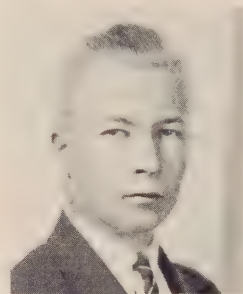

HAROLD WILLMAN

Hyannis

"Hard is his herte that loveth naught in May."

The perseverance which Harold has shown in school will help him much in his business career. We hope he will not continue his well known modesty, however; it might prove a handicap.

Orchestra 1, 2; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Cross Country 4.

ROBERT GREEN

Hyannis Port

"Like a Colossus."

Robert came to us at a most unfortunate time this year: too late to play football, but too early to stop studying. What a hole he would have filled as a guard! He says Harvard is his goal. Well, Robert, you have your hair trained right already.

In Memoriam

We who knew her have felt the deepest sorrow at the death of our beloved former teacher, Mrs. Isadore Eldredge. As teacher and friend, she was sympathetic and understanding.

KATHERINE M. NEHUBIAN
Class Adviser

Acknowledgment

To Miss Katherine M. Nehubian the Class of Nineteen Thirty-nine give sincerest thanks for her efforts in conducting the minstrel show, financing the "Barnacle," and managing with consideration the other activities of their senior year.

We wish to thank Mr. Wilbur E. Cheever for his patient guidance and untiring efforts in the preparation of this Tercentenary Edition of "The Barnacle."

The following essay, written by Myrtle Calmas, won the award offered by Miss Jean G. Hinkle "for the best essay written by a Barnstable High School pupil concerning a notable Barnstable citizen or family who has made some worthwhile contribution to the good of the community, the state, or the nation." The essay is printed in the "Barnacle" because it represents in part the contribution of the High School to the Tercentenary Celebration.

Captain John Gorham

THE Gorham family is traced to the de Gorrams of the Tanniere, on the border of Brittany, France. William, the son of Ralph de Gorram, built a castle there in 1128. From Brittany, several families of this name emigrated to England in the eleventh century during the reign of William the Conqueror, and established their homes on English soil.

The American family of Gorham is traced to James Gorham of Benefield, Northamptonshire, England, who married Agnes Bermington in 1572. Their son Ralph Gorham, born in 1575, came to New England in 1635 and settled in Plymouth, Massachusetts. He returned to England, where he died in 1643, leaving behind him a son, John, later a captain, and the inheritor of his property.

That John, who was born in 1620 at Benefield, England, inherited his father's property is inferred from the fact that no settlement of his estate appears on the records—none was required if there was only one heir. During the seventeenth century, besides John and his descendants, no other person of the name Gorham is mentioned as a resident of Plymouth Colony.

Of the early life of Captain John Gorham not much is known. He had a good common school education, and was brought up in the Puritan faith. It is thought that he probably served an apprenticeship with a tanner, working at that business in the winter and pursuing other work in the summer. At the first settlement of the country very few mechanics were employed at their trades throughout the year. All had lands assigned to them, and in the summer season they labored on their farms. Even the governors and their assistants had farms which they tilled themselves.

At an early age John had to rely on himself: a young man, in a strange land, with no family connections to sustain him, and little wealth to aid him in the pursuit of the business of life. However, he was an honest boy and grew up to be an honest man, and his descendants—Howard Hinckley, Alfred Crocker, and Mrs. Jerauld—have inherited not only his good name, but generally his traits of character.

In 1643, being then twenty-two years of age, he married Desire, the daughter of John Howland, one of the last survivors of the Mayflower passengers. Desire was one of the first colonists born at Plymouth and grew to young womanhood, educated in the Puritan faith. During her long life she was a pattern of good works, a kind-hearted woman, and a Christian in name and spirit. In 1646 she and her young husband moved from Plymouth and settled at Marshfield. Then in 1652 they moved to Yarmouth, adjoining Barnstable, where they purchased on the north country road a lot which had been part of the Hallett farm. Captain John also owned the land between Stoney Cove and Mill Road, as well as seventeen acres on the southwest side of the cove. His farm contained very little waste land. As a whole, this farm is not so fertile as it was formerly; there were few better farms in the Colony than Captain Gorham's. It was well watered, convenient to the meadows, and contained soils adapted to the cultivation of a great variety of crops.

Gorham was the owner of a grist mill, known as Hallett's Mill. This mill, named in the early town records (1647), was situated farther south than the present mill. He also owned a wharf and a tannery.

Captain John was a deputy from Yarmouth to the Plymouth Colony General Court at the Special Session, April 6, 1653, and the following year he was chosen surveyor of highways, in addition to various town offices that he already held.

In 1673 and 1674 he became a member of the board of Selectmen of the Town of Barnstable. In the same year he served as a lieutenant of the Plymouth forces in the Dutch War.

Captain Gorham's greatest service, however, was of a military nature during King Philip's War. On June 17, 1675, General Benjamin Church arrived at Plymouth, and confirmed former reports of the conduct of King Philip. The next Sunday, June 20, Philip's men made an attack on Swanzey, and rifled a few houses. Orders were issued to all captains of all the companies in the colony to march without delay. The names of the soldiers who went from Barnstable are not recorded. Mr. John Gorham, it appears by the Yarmouth Records, was Captain of the militia company. June 24, 1675, Captain Gorham and twenty-nine men from Yarmouth, whose names appear on record, took their march for Mount Hope. These were mounted men.

On October 4, 1675, he was appointed by the court Captain of the Second Company of the Plymouth Forces in King Philip's War. A letter from Captain John has been preserved and indicates that he and his men were having the same experiences that have been shared by many fighters of Indians: they had spent fourteen weeks in a vain attempt to find the enemy. Subsequently, Gorham succeeded in joining forces with the main body of the colonial troops, and thus took part in the most important battle of the war.

The date of John Gorham's death, February 5, 1675, was not known until the Waste Book, which his son lieutenant Colonel John wrote, was found long years later. In it we find the details of his death in King Philip's War. He was killed in action by the powder blast of a shot which struck him in the side, though the exposure, fatigue, and fever against which he was struggling might well have laid him low ingloriously.

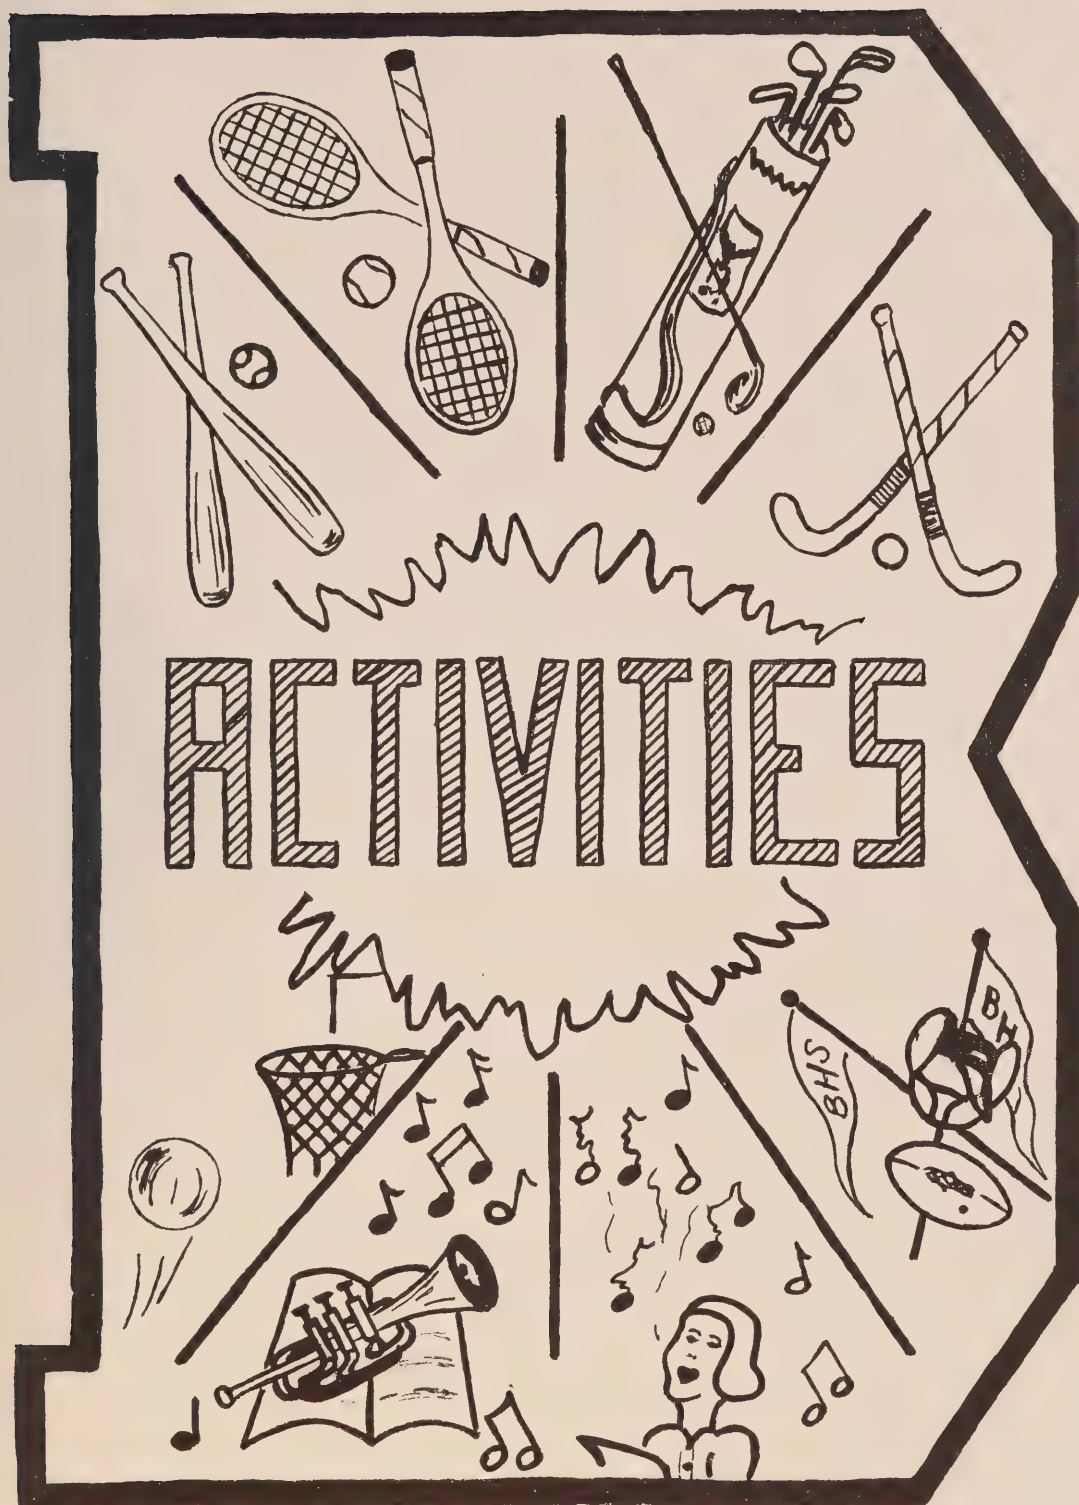

On July 13, 1677, in consideration of the services that Captain Gorham had performed for his country in the war in which he lost his life, the Plymouth Court confirmed to his heirs and successors forever the grant of one hundred acres of that beautiful tract of land called Pasasquash Neck, near Bristol, Rhode Island, "foreasmuch as he hath performed good service for the country in the late war."

In the eastern part of the town, on the north side of the road and several houses west of the Yarmouth line, stands an old house formerly owned by the Gorhams and now owned by Mr. Gilmore. One author says, "It is one of the most interesting relics of old times that Vandalism, under cover of improvement, has permitted to remain interesting from its family associations, and the style of domestic architecture and interior finish." It is the oldest of four houses now standing which were built by the Gorhams in the early times, all of them upon the farm once owned by Captain John Gorham, who settled in Barnstable in 1652.

Captain John's son, Lieutenant Colonel Gorham, was second in command in the fourth and fifth expeditions against the French and Indians. His monument is near the Unitarian meeting house in Barnstable.

At Gorham, Maine, on the town monument may be seen a quotation from the letter of Captain John Gorham, written in 1675, to Governor Winslow in which he offered to serve God and his country as long as he had life and health—a sacrifice which he literally fulfilled by his death during King Philip's War.

Barnstable High School

Activities Association

THE present Activities Association was established in 1935 for the purpose of financing those extra-curricular activities not sponsored by a class. Though its funds are recruited largely from the sale of the Activities Ticket and the collections at football and basketball games, this organization exists not solely as a means of paying for our athletic program, but in part as a helpful big brother to activities which are not self-supporting. Its funds are drawn upon to finance debating, part of the dramatics, motion pictures for some assemblies, the "Clipper" when it has no ready cash, and other means of culturally enriching our school life.

This year the Activities Ticket was sold at a cash price of two dollars, although it could be bought for slightly more on an installment basis. The ticket gave admission to all home games and track meets, a musical concert, and a full-length play. Membership in the Association also carried with it a subscription to the "Clipper." All these advantages cost the pupil only one-fourth the amount necessary for single separate purchases. By making participation in a varied activities program accessible, the Association has materially broadened the interests of the students and has made performances successful which might have failed otherwise. The large attendance at the junior class play this year, for instance, was partly attributable to the initiation of pupils to the spoken drama last year through admitting Association members free of charge to the play "Tiger House."

Perhaps the greatest single aim of the Activities Association program is to encourage on the part of our pupils unified co-operation—a goal difficult to attain and doubly important to strive for in a school where pupils come from five or six semi-independent villages. Here our activities have a common treasury, rather than a jumble of individual accounts; here we participate in school clubs and in watching athletic contests as young citizens of Barnstable rather than of its separate hamlets.

The Student Council

THE Student Council of Barnstable High School, organized by Mr. Knight in 1934 and now under Mr. Briah K. Connor, has as its purpose promoting mutual understanding between the faculty and the student body, and regulating certain school activities. Four seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores—all chosen for high character and superior scholarship—serve on the Council for the remainder of their high school career.

This year the Council supervised all major elections, continued the work begun in 1937 of gathering material for a general handbook of school information valuable to pupils, and sponsored an educational assembly at which Mr. J. E. Hines gave a dramatization of "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow." Farther afield they represented Barnstable High School on November 17 at a meeting of the Associated Body of High School Councils of Massachusetts at Sharon.

Music

At Barnstable High School the program for training in music, under the Director of Music Samuel Griffiths, comprises both class work and extra-curricular endeavor. Vocal music is studied in grades seven, eight, nine and ten, music appreciation being stressed in the ninth grade course. The senior high orchestra of 46 members, the senior high band of 39, and the junior combined band and orchestra of 33, are extra-curricular organizations, although participation in them earns a small amount of credit toward graduation. The boys' glee club of 42 members and the girls' glee club of 76 are conducted by Miss Dorothy Barton and are open to pupils in grades seven to twelve.

The musical organizations have shown a steady improvement in quality, interest, and loyalty which can be traced to one source only: the serious enthusiasm and the quiet control which Mr. Griffiths has always displayed. It was through his reputation for achievement in teaching music that the New England Music Festival with its 700 participants came to be held at the Barnstable High School in March 1937.

This year, as in the past, the colorful red and white uniforms and the stirring playing of the band were very much in evidence at the football games. The pulse-quickenning marches of the band lent zest to many school assemblies, and in the late winter gave a touch of ceremony at the opening of the new Hyannis Post Office.

The orchestra, the band, and the glee clubs reached their peak in achievement this year at the Eastern Music Festival in Boston on the evening of March 17, in broadcasting the Festival Concert over Station WAAB from eight until nine-thirty.

At Belmont on May 13 the band played in the Massachusetts Music Festival and used for the first time a new instrument, the bell lyre, purchased especially for this occasion. Nicholas Fortes won honor for himself and his school by gaining the highest rating possible on the tuba and the sousaphone.

On Sunday afternoon, June 4, the musical organizations of the school initiated the town's Tercentenary Celebration by giving a combined concert in the Barnstable High School auditorium.

All concerned may well be proud of the achievements of the Barnstable High School musical groups; for they show caliber of attainment which will give their participants that life-long appreciation founded on a thorough knowledge in one of the greatest art forms—music.

SENIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

Dramatics

THE dramatic activities are carried on by two extra-curricular clubs, the Senior Dramatic Club under Mr. Wilbur Cheever and the Junior Dramatic Club under Miss Evelyn Banning. The senior high group holds a full meeting every second Friday to transact club business and participate in a planned program, and by special committees prepares on the alternate Fridays the presentation to be used at the next regular gathering. Through these programs the fifty members learn the elements of acting, stagecraft, and make-up.

In addition to its more serious work the senior club has enjoyed two social events, a Christmas party and, in June, a picnic.

Two plays were produced during the year: at Christmas the deeply significant "Dust of the Road"; in April the widely known mystery "The Ghost Train." The latter presentation was sponsored by the Junior Class and was made unusually realistic by well-timed train effects. For both plays members of the senior club made all costumes, settings, and special lighting equipment.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE MEMBERS

Debating and Public Speaking

THIS year the debating teams have continued to uphold the forensic honors of Barnstable High School by winning in meets more than enough points to retain the National Forensic League Charter granted in 1938. Barnstable debaters won from the negative of Sacred Heart, the negative and affirmative of Durfee High School, the negative of Dartmouth High School, and the affirmative of Monsignor Coyle. Five other debates were lost.

On February 14 the Southeastern District speaking contests were held for the fourth year at Barnstable. Our high school placed first in oratorical declamation, first and third in humorous declamation, third in original oratory, second in extempore speaking, and tied with Fall River for first place in debating.

The school sent seven representatives to participate in the National Forensic League State Tournament in Groton on March 31 and April 1.

THE CLIPPER STAFF

The Clipper

WITH Miss Marion Brink as faculty adviser and Miss Bertha A. Newcomb in the capacity of advertising director, the "Clipper" staff of twenty-four students from the eighth grade through the junior year, produced four issues of the "Clipper": in November, February, April, and June, as has been the custom since 1936.

Through striving to attain better style, to stress the literary section, to virtually banish gossip, and to give a wider representation of high school activities, this year's staff has proved worthy of recognition.

Football

THIS year's football season proved one of the most brilliant that Barnstable has enjoyed for a number of years, netting seven victories and but three defeats.

The first five games—Nantucket 0-44, Mansfield 6-20, Yarmouth 0-34, Falmouth 0-6, Bourne 7-32—made up a string of unbroken victories. Monsignor Coyle broke the spell 13-0; but the Barnstable boys came back strong to defeat Stoughton unexpectedly 6-0. Barnstable again slumped to lose to Middleboro 6-2; then revived and beat Provincetown 32-0. On Thanksgiving Day our boys were defeated by their old rival, Falmouth 7-0.

Boys' Basketball

ENDING its season on February 24, 1939, the team was able to look back on a successful campaign. Seven of the scheduled fifteen games were won. The team played well together and responded to the splendid leadership of Captain Henry George, who averaged eleven points a game. John McKeon, Patrick McKeon, and George Nickerson averaged four points each.

Baseball

THE Barnstable High School baseball team has marked up more gains than losses this season. To date our players have defeated Provincetown, Dartmouth, and Harwich once each, and Sandwich twice. Harwich and Bourne have beaten our teams.

Though Coach Taft found it difficult to mold a strong battery from the inexperienced players available, Captain Carl Salo held opposing batsmen down to few hits whenever he pitched. Henry George, living up to his title of "class athlete," made many a timely hit. Patrick McKeon and Paul Syriala were strong players in the defensive department.

Golf

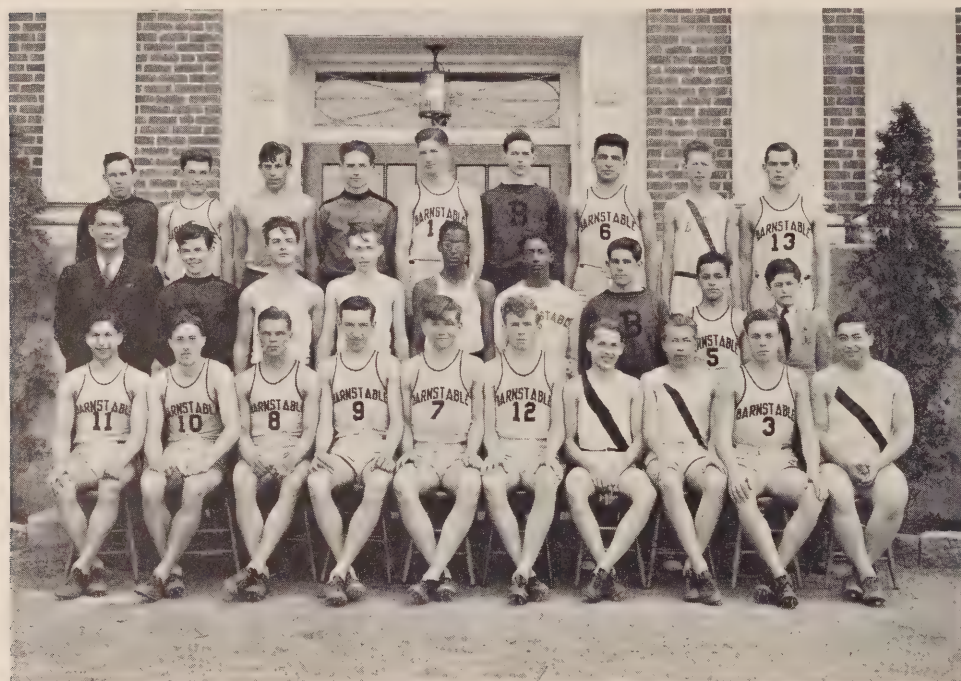

THE 1939 golf team under Captain William Mott made a good record over courses both at home and away. For the second year the Barnstable High team was a member of the Southeastern Conference of the State of Massachusetts, which includes all this year's opponents: Falmouth, New Bedford, Dartmouth, and Brockton high schools, and New Bedford Vocational School.

At this writing eight of the ten scheduled games have been played, netting two victories over New Bedford Vocational, and two very decisive triumphs over Falmouth, the traditional rival. The team lost twice to Brockton, once to New Bedford High, and once to Dartmouth.

Track and Cross-Country

THE '39 track season was successful and probably would have been more so, had there been more meets in which to participate. The team, although rather small, did very well under Co-Captains Henry George and James Karras.

Barnstable placed fifth in the South Shore meet held in May at Weymouth. John McKeon kept the team in the running when he placed second in the 440 yard run and third in the broad jump. Our class athlete, Henry George, accounted for a few more points by tying for second place in the shot-put event.

Last fall the cross-country team, inexperienced for the most part, engaged in and lost two runs against Sandwich, over a two and three-fourths mile course. James Karras and George Raymond came in first and second among our runners.

Girls' Basketball

IN basketball the girls were nearly as successful as they were in hockey. The team, of which all members were veterans, completed the schedule of ten games with a total of nine victories and one tie, and now holds the undisputed title of "Champions of Cape Cod."

Two-court basketball in the 1939 season replaced the old three-court system and resulted in much faster play.

FOR the first time the girls' hockey team came through the entire season unbeaten, untied, and unscored upon. This truly remarkable record was due to the co-operation of the entire squad of sixty-five, the expert coaching of Katherine Nehubian, the proficiency of individual players, and the capable leadership of Captain Jean Dunham. NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

Offers a broad program of college subjects serving as a foundation for the understanding of modern culture, social relations, and technical achievement. The purpose of this program is to give the student a liberal and cultural education and a vocational competence which fits him to enter some specific type of useful employment.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Offers a college program with broad and thorough training in the principles of business with specialization in ACCOUNTING, BANKING AND FINANCE, or BUSINESS MANAGEMENT. Modern methods of instruction, including lectures, solution of business problems, class discussions, professional talks by business executives, and motion pictures of manufacturing processes, are used.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

Provides complete college programs in Engineering with professional courses in the fields of CIVIL, MECHANICAL (with DIESEL, AERONAUTICAL and AIR CONDITIONING OPTIONS), ELECTRICAL, CHEMICAL, INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING, and ENGINEERING ADMINISTRATION. General engineering courses are pursued during the freshman year; thus the student need not make a final decision as to the branch of engineering in which he wishes to specialize until the beginning of the sophomore year.

Co-operative Plan

The Co-operative Plan, which is available to upperclassmen in all courses, provides for a combination of practical industrial experience with classroom instruction. Under this plan the student is able to earn a portion of his school expenses as well as to make business contacts which prove valuable in later years.
